

comScore Releases May U.S. Search Engine Rankings

RESTON, Va., June 22, 2007 – comScore, a leader in measuring the digital world, today released its monthly qSearch analysis of activity across competitive search engines. In May 2007, Google Sites captured 50.7 percent of the U.S. search market, gaining one full share point from the previous month. Yahoo! Sites maintained its second place ranking with 26.4 percent of U.S. searches, followed by Microsoft Sites (10.3 percent), Ask Network (5.0 percent) and Time Warner Network (4.6 percent).

Share of Online Searches by Engine
April 2007 – May2007
Total U.S. Home, Work and University Internet Users
Source: comScore qSearch
	Apr-07	May-07	Pt Chg vs. Previous Month
Total Internet Population	100.0%	100.0%	N/A
Google Sites	49.7%	50.7%	1.0
Yahoo! Sites	26.8%	26.4%	-0.4
Microsoft Sites	10.3%	10.3%	0.0
Ask Network	5.1%	5.0%	-0.1
Time Warner Network	5.0%	4.6%	-0.4

- Americans conducted 7.6 billion searches online in May, up 4 versus April and up 11 percent versus May 2006.
- Google Sites led the pack with 3.9 billion search queries performed, followed by Yahoo Sites (2.0 billion), Microsoft Sites (782 million), Ask Network (384 million), and Time Warner Network (348 million).

For more information on comScore qSearch, please email searchsolutions@comscore.com or call

(650) 244-5412.

About comScore

comScore, Inc. is a global leader in measuring the digital world. This capability is based on a massive, global cross-section of more than 2 million consumers who have given comScore permission to confidentially capture their browsing and transaction behavior, including online and offline purchasing. comScore panelists also participate in survey research that captures and integrates their attitudes and intentions. Through its proprietary technology, comScore measures what matters across a broad spectrum of behavior and attitudes. comScore analysts apply this deep knowledge of customers and competitors to help clients design powerful marketing strategies and tactics that deliver superior ROI. comScore services are used by more than 700 clients, including global leaders such as AOL, Microsoft, Yahoo!, Verizon, Best Buy, The Newspaper Association of America, Tribune Interactive, ESPN, Fox Sports, Nestlé, MBNA, Starcom USA, Universal McCann, the United States Postal Service, Merck and Expedia. For more information, please visit www.comscore.com.

Contact:
Andrew Lipsman
Senior Analyst
comScore, Inc.
312-775-6510
press@comscore.com